

HAPPY SUNSHINE

Super Mothers

WRITTEN BY FANANKIDS

The mother says:

Praise be to Allah, I realized early that:

✓ Studying is only a part of my children's lives, not their whole life...

✓ Studying is their goal,
not mine.

✓ Studying is one path
to success, but not the only one...

... And most importantly:

◀ My role as a mother is not just to make sure they succeed in school, but to:

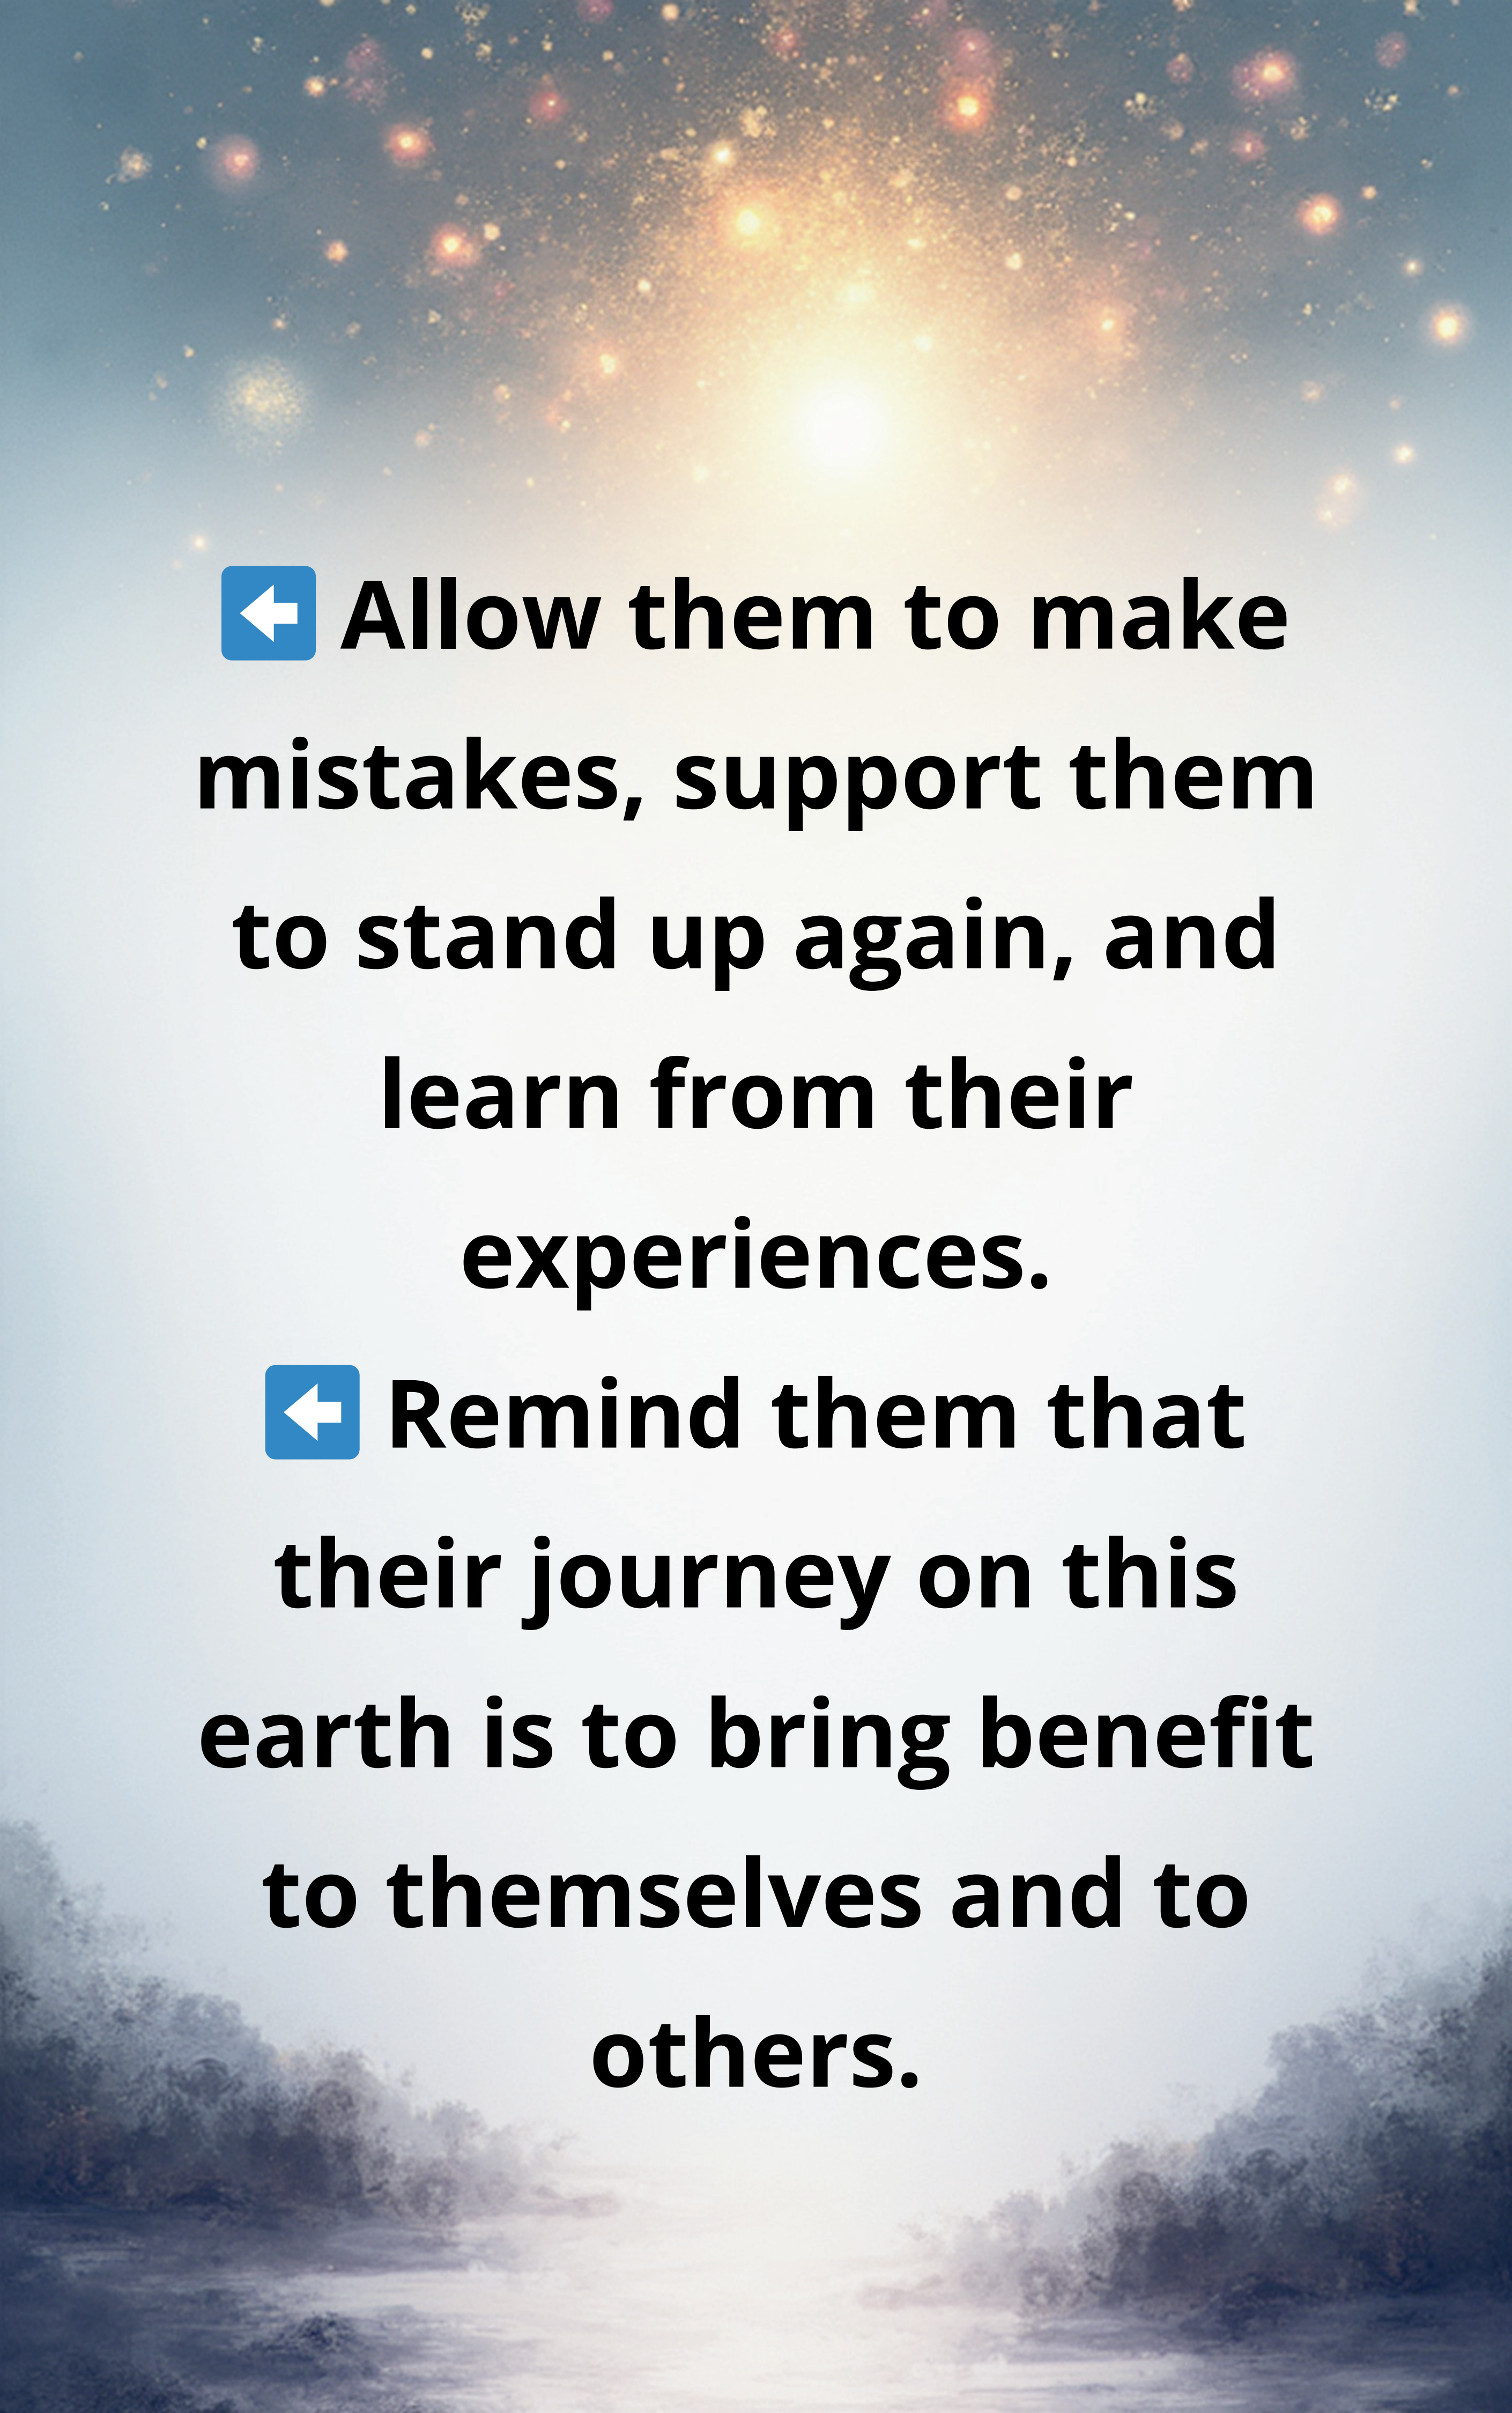

◀ Encourage and support them so they believe in themselves.

◀ Remind them every day that they are amazing, and paint for them a beautiful picture of their future that inspires them to achieve it.

← Provide them with a balanced family
environment filled with love, laughter, and harmony.

← Enjoy my life with them
and teach them to enjoy life as a whole so they can be balanced individuals.

← Show them where each
path leads and let them
choose their own way.

← Allow them to make mistakes, support them to stand up again, and learn from their experiences.

← Remind them that their journey on this earth is to bring benefit to themselves and to others.

And all of this is because I understood where to take the principles of parenting from —
==> from the Qur'an and
the Sunnah, ✗ not from society.

And you? Are you still wasting the best moments with your children arguing about school?
